General Safety Information

EN

Your device has been tested in conformity with standards EN 60950-1 and IEC 60950-1 and should only be operated with telephone systems and power equipment that meet these standards. The device was built exclusively for use in the indicated sales region.

Do not make any changes or settings that are not described in this user manual.

Setting Up the Machine

The device should rest securely on a stable, flat surface. If the device should fall, it can be damaged or can cause injury to people, especially small children. Position all cables in such a way that no one will stumble on them, thus avoiding possible injuries to persons or damage to the device itself.

The distance between the device and other devices or objects must be at least 15 centimetres; this also applies to the use of additional cordless telephones. Do not place the device in the vicinity of radios or televisions.

Lock the cover of the device completely into place when opening the device. You could be injured if the cover falls while you are working on the device.

Protect the device against direct sunlight, heat, large temperature fluctuations and moisture. Do not place the device in the vicinity of heaters or air conditioners. Observe the information on temperature and humidity in the technical data.

The device must have sufficient ventilation and may not be covered. Do not put your device in closed cabinets or boxes. Do not place the machine on soft surfaces such as tablecloths or carpets and do not cover the ventilation slits. Otherwise, the device can overheat and catch on fire.

In the event that the device becomes too hot, or if you see smoke coming from the device, you must immediately pull the power cable out of the power socket. Have your device examined by trained professionals at a technical service location. To prevent the spread of fire, open flames should be kept away from the device.

Do not plug in the device in moist rooms. Never touch the mains cable, the mains connection or the telephone socket with wet hands.

Do not allow liquids to enter into the device. Disconnect the device from the power socket if liquids or foreign objects have entered the device and have your device examined by trained professionals at a technical service location.

Do not allow children to handle the device without supervision. The packing materials should be kept out of the hands of children.

The telephone handset of the device is magnetic. Caution, small metallic objects (paper clips) may be retained if placed near or on the telephone handset.

Power Supply

Check whether the mains voltage of your device (indicated on the type label) matches the mains voltage available at the setup location.

Use only the power and telephones cables supplied.

Set up your device so that the power socket is easily accessible. The device does not have an on/off button. In an emergency, disconnect your device from the power supply by pulling the power plug.

Never touch the power or telephone cable if the insulation is damaged.

Disconnect your device from the power and telephone networks during an electrical storm. If this is not possible, do not use the device during an electrical storm.

Before cleaning the surface of your device, disconnect it from the power and telephone networks. Never use liquid, gaseous or easily flammable cleansers (sprays, abrasives, polishes, alcohol).

Only clean the display with a dry, soft cloth. If the display breaks, a mildly corrosive liquid may escape. Avoid all contact with your skin and eyes.

In the event of a power failure, your device will not function; saved data is retained.

Repairs

Should disruptions occur, follow the instructions on the display and on the error report.

Do not make any repairs to the device yourself. Improper maintenance can result in injuries or damage to the device. Only have your device repaired by an authorised service centre.

Do not remove the type label from your device; this would void the warranty.

Consumable Materials

Use only original consumable materials. These are available from a specialised retailer or through our order service. Other consumable materials could damage the device or shorten its service life.

Dispose of old consumable materials according to the waste regulations of your country.

Setting the fax switch (IPF 525, IPF 555)

The built-in fax switch of your device distinguishes between fax messages and telephone calls. Faxes are automatically received, telephone calls can be received—even on additionally connected devices. While the device is checking the call, it continues to ring.

In addition, you can set whether after a certain number of rings you will receive the call or whether the answering machine should switch on.

While the device is checking the call, it continues to ring. After the set number of rings (FAX/TEL TIMER), the device will take over the call and automatically receive a possible silent fax transmission.

Reception mode TAD/FAX

 This mode is only available only if an outgoing message has already been recorded.

You should set the device to this mode if you have additional devices connected to the EXT socket of your device. If an additionally connected answering machine receives a call, your device will check to determine whether or not the incoming call is a fax transmission. If the device receives a fax signal, it switches the answering machine off and receives the fax transmission.

If you do not have an answering machine connected or if a connected answering machine does not accept the call, the device will take over the call after a set number of rings (setting RINGS NUMBER) and automatically receive any possible fax transmission being sent.

 If you pick up at an additional device and hear that you are receiving a fax (whistling tone or silence), you can start the fax reception by pressing ④⑤ on the additional telephone or pressing ◊ on the device. To use this function, additional telephones must be set to the tone dialling mode (DTMF/MFV tones) (for this purpose see the operating manual of your additional telephone).

Configuring Telephone Lines and Services

DSL Connection

In the event that you use a DSL modem: Connect the machine after the modem. For additional information, please consult the operating manual of your DSL system.

ISDN Connection

Your device is an analogue fax device (Group 3). It is not an ISDN device (Group 4), and therefore it cannot be operated directly on an ISDN connection. In order to do this, you need either an analogue adapter or a connection for analogue terminals. Details for ISDN connections can be found in the instructions provided with the terminal adapter or the dial-up router.

Selecting the dialling process

In some countries you can set the dialling process to pulse dialling (IWV) or tone dialling (MFV, DTMF tones).

 Use pulse dialling (IWV), only if the tone dialling process (MFV) is disabled for your link.

- 1 Press MENU. RECEPT. SET-UP appears on the display.

Get the mailbox function for your telephone connection deactivated. When the fax switch accepts the call, the mail-box of the service provider does not step in. Enquire with your telephone service provider.

Voice-Mailbox (IPF 525, IPF 555)

You cannot simultaneously use the answering machine facility of your telephone service provider (= voice-mail box) and receive faxes on your devices. Get the mail-box function for your telephone connection disabled or set the number of rings for the fax switch to less than 5. When the fax switch accepts the call, the mail-box of the service provider does not step in. Contact your telephone service provider (also see Chapters "Settings/Setting the Fax Switch").

PABX systems

Private branch exchanges (PABX) are typical in many offices and some households. You must dial an outside line access code in order to get a connection to the public telephone network (PSTN) from a PABX.

 An additional telephone connected to the machine on a telephone socket is not considered an extension.

The following sentence applies to purchases of equipment for the customer's trade, business or profession. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Document and to the extent permitted by law, SAGEM makes no representations or warranties, express or implied, statutory or otherwise, and to such extent, all terms and conditions implied by law are hereby excluded. This guarantee does not affect the Customer's statutory rights.

 - transmission faults (for example poor geographical coverage by radio transmitters, interference or poor line quality)
 - the local network fault (wiring, servers, workstations) or the failure of the transmission network

- the normal servicing (as defined in the user guide supplied with the equipment) as well as malfunctioning due to servicing not being carried out, servicing costs are in any event always borne by the customer.

C In the cases set forth in § B as well as after expiry of the twelve month guarantee period, the customer must ask SAGEM for an estimate, and he/she must accept the estimate and agree to pay the charges mentioned in it before returning the equipment to SAGEM. The repair and delivery costs will be invoiced to the customer.
